FEE AGREEMENT FOR FEES CHARGED ON AN HOURLY RATE

(PURSUANT TO RULE 1.5 OF THE IDAHO RULES OF PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT)

The scope of the representation is to do the work as requested from time-to-time by the Client. The Client will be charged on an hourly basis, plus any out-of-pocket costs incurred, including but not necessarily limited to court costs, fees of court reporters, deposition costs, charges for service of all papers, (including subpoenas), witness fees and expenses, reports, including reports of experts and investigators, long distance phone charges, travel costs, and copying charges. All such expenses shall be payable regardless of the outcome of the matter for which the attorneys are retained. The client agrees to advance to said attorneys at their discretion such sums as may be necessary for the payment of said expenses.

The Client will be required to pay on a monthly basis for services rendered.

The fees to be charged will be a reasonable fee in keeping with the reasonable hourly rate charged by Clark and Feeney, LLP, for like or similar services to other clients.

Upon reasonable requested by the Client, Clark and Feeney shall provide, without charge, an accounting for all fees and costs claimed, together with an itemization of all hourly charges, costs, interest assessments, and past due balances.

For all charges made and if requested by client, the charges shall be broken down by showing the date of the service, the service, and the amount of charges in sufficient detail to apprise the Client of the nature of the work and the charges for the work performed.

SOCIAL MEDIA ACCOUNT

WARNING: If you have a social media account, you need to be very careful about what has been posted on your account in the past, what you post during litigation and who has access to the account. Social Media Accounts are frequently used against litigates in court cases. The other side of your case can subpoena access to your Social Media Account or can otherwise require that you provide access to your account. If you have any questions, please discuss this with your attorney.
